

Microsoft Exchange

TLP:WHITE

No restriction on distribution

HID-PSA-2021-01

2021-March-17

Severity:

Informational

Overview:

The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) issued a warning that Microsoft Exchange Servers have been the target of active exploitation. Details can be found in the reference links below.

At this point, HID has no indication that our networks have been compromised. We are actively and continually monitoring our environment. If a compromise of our systems is detected, HID Global will take appropriate action including, as applicable, notifying affected customers.

Affected Products:

HID Global products are unaffected.

Next Steps:

HID Global Information Security in collaboration with our Product Security and Privacy Teams are actively monitoring the situation. If a compromise of our systems is detected, HID Global will take appropriate action including, as applicable, notifying affected customers

Contact Information:

If you have any questions about this advisory, please contact your local sales or technical support representative.

References:

CISA Emergency Directive 21-02 - Mitigate Microsoft Exchange On-Premises Product Vulnerabilities: <https://cyber.dhs.gov/ed/21-02/>